Directors

The men behind the scenes are directly responsible for providing the essentials of an efficient, smooth-running organization.

Their task is to secure and maintain the finest, most thoroughly trained, and professional staff possible, to provide a sound financing program through careful, long-time planning, and to make possible through an adequate school plant and effective curriculum the choicest educative experiences.

The Board of Directors of the School City of Garrett is to be complimented on its ability to provide the best in educational facilities and personnel.

Executives

The successful maintenance and operation of the school plant, the effective coordination and supervision of the instructional staff, and the careful scheduling, adjusting and checking of pupil personnel are responsibilities of the school's administrators.

As the executives of a great broadcasting corporation put into action the decisions of the directors, so the principal and superintendent function with regard to the actions of the Board of Education.

The executives of Garrett High School have earned the respect, confidence, and admiration not only of the student body and faculty, but also of the entire community.

Seniors

Grand Finale

The Class of 1941, the first class to have completed six years in the building, are perhaps better acquainted with Garrett High School than any previous class. During this time they have proudly watched it grow from an over-crowded, poorly-equipped building to a modern educational plant using the latest, most efficient methods. They have seen it develop from crystal set days to the age of television.

Now, after six years, surmounting such obstacles as Latin, geometry, chemistry, and economics, enjoying the many class and club activities, and learning to work together, the Seniors are eagerly anticipating the "big event" in the latter part of May.

Soon they will be facing a world far different from the one enclosed by the walls of Garrett High School. But they go forth courageously to dare and do.

The Court

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Heirs, relatives, assignees, or other interested parties are hereby called to appear and prove claim the following bequests, estates, grants, viz.; e.g.; etc.

- I, Alelia Anderson, will my dislike for the boys to my cousin, Phyllis.
To "Little Adolph" do I, Lorraine Babbitt, will my effective "Wrigley Blitzkriegs."
I, Beverly Bapst, will my watch to anyone who can get the giver away from me.
My many 9th periods (8 to 8:30 A. M.), do I, Richard Bartels, will to John Bradin.
I, Betty Bertsch, will my poems to anyone brave enough to accept them.
In my moment of generosity, I, Mary Bloom, will my treasured roller skates to "Shanny." (May he enjoy them as much as I have.)
I, "Peck" Bohler, will my "struggle buggy" to McLaughlin's Wrecking Service.
To Ellamae Noel, I, Alma Bowlby, will my long fingernails.
The wad of gum on the fourth seat of the third row in Room 29 do I, Norma Case, will to Lydia Swander.
I, Dorothy Cattell, will my song-writing ability to Martin Muzzillo. (Your artful soul will appreciate it, Muzz.)
I, Bette Cerasale, bequeath my blond hair to my sister, Claire.
To Isabelle Foote, I, Jeanette Chester, will my naturally curly hair.
I, Nina Childers, will my glockenspiel to Fern Brown. (She'll probably enjoy carrying it.)
I, Doris Clabaugh, gladly give to Bill Smurr my extra work in Civics. (It will get you a long way, Bill.)
The smell of Bill Moses' "Blue Waltz" perfume do I, Kathleen Connor, will to the corridors during chemistry experiments.
To Miles Weller, I, William Creager, bequeath my way with the ladies.
In recognition of the underpups in Ag. classes do I, Wayne Custer, will to one of the "underest," Don Kleeman, my favor in Bateman's eyes.
To the Economics class of 1942, I, Edith Davidson, will my sweet disposition.
I, Jack DeVeney, do gladly bequeath to Roger Gelhausen, my long-lost bashfulness.
I, Gordon Dills, will my many trips to South Bend to all stay-at-homes who could find as good a reason for going as I did.
To Katie Simcox do I, Pearl Eldridge, will my home in the country, so far from the school.
I, Jean Ellington, will my ability as an artist for the M. & B. to someone who has a plentiful supply of patience.
To the entire city of Garrett, I, Doris Freeman, unwillingly bequeath my interest in the B. & O.
I, Charles Freeze, will my "slow-motion dancing" to anyone who can copy it accurately.
I, Eileen Gault, bequeath my entertaining ability to Gertrude Hauck. (May it bring her as many laughs as I received.)
I, Pat Gelhausen, gladly give my interest in Florida to any girl who loves to travel.
I, "Flash" Gordon, will my marvelous physique to Robert Talley.
In all seriousness and with best wishes, I, Allen Greene, will my journalistic tendencies to next year's editor of the Maroon and Blue.
I, Merwyn Greene, will my ambition to be a minister to John Kock. (No reflections, Goon.)
We, Peg and Zoa Hamm, will our seats together in all classes to the Riedhart twins.
To Johnny Parvu do I, Ed Harwood, will my nickname, "Speed."
I, Bonnie Hazeltine, will a few of my boy-friends to Doris Clark.
I, JoAnn Heinzerling, will to any new girl who may enter this school next year the sensation I created.
I, Annetta Hendrickson, will my flock of sweaters to anyone who needs them. (Don't all speak at once, girls.)
To Dorothy Roberts do I, Alma Hillegass, will my first period work on shorthand.
I, Fay Kalafat, will my unbounding school spirit to June Reneman.
I, Marjorie Kelham, unwillingly will my perfect conduct at all times to Beverly Andrews.
To Cecelia Bartels, who has already made a name for herself along this line, do I, Betty Kruger, will my singing ability.

Missing Heirs

I, Elaine Lewis, will my slow motions to Bette Moses.
 I, Arlene Malcom, will my stays with the principal's daughter to someone interested in child welfare.
 In all fairness and understanding do I, Phyllis Mann, will my motto, "Everyday in every way I'm getting slimmer and slimmer" to Mr. Coble.
 I, Pat McDowell, will my outstanding intellect to the school for its memoirs.
 I, Mary Milks, will my all to Jim. (As if we couldn't guess!)

To a certain Brimfield farmer do I, Mary Moody, follow in Milks' footsteps.
 I, Bill Moses, will my liking for Hamm to all vegetarians.
 I, the press-agent of "Horsie" Mowry, hereby state that he wishes to will his eyebrows to all who have at some time or other admired them.
 To the Chemistry room do I, Joe Myers, will all my precious time I have spent in installing the new cabinets.
 After due consideration I, Roger Neighborgall, have decided to finally will my interest in younger girls to boys nearer their age.
 To Noah Webster with a sense of pity do I, William Oliver, will my unlimited vocabulary.
 I, Fara Lee Pearson, bequeath my smiling spirit to the second year typing students.
 To the memory of a "good" chemistry class, do I, Earl Richmond, will the prize answers of the year.
 That they may be revenged, I, Kathryn Rider, will my flippancy to all those who have been the victims of it.
 We, Stanley Rose, Glenn Getz, and Meredith Holsinger, will our Union of Organized Chemists to three persons of next year's class who can throw a bottle of nitroglycerin against a brick wall without an explosion.
 I, Opal Runion, will my quiet ways to the teachers, who appreciate such conduct.
 I, Dora Sarber, will my ice cream business to someone who likes work.
 To Leroy Pence do I, Robert Saxer, will my falsetto voice.
 I, Don Schulthess, will my unlimited hours of work on bookkeeping to W. C. Potter.
 To Robert Burch do I, Charles Simcox, will my height, so valuable in basketball.
 I, Mary Sleek, will my quite inconspicuous school life to all those with quiet natures who follow in my footsteps.
 For no plausible reason do I, Cleo Smith, will my interest in dark-haired boys to Lila Burch.
 I, Ruth Soellinger, will to my younger sister anything I have which she wants.
 Having it in abundance, I, Eleanor Souder, find it possible for me to will a little of my music talent to Ruth Gerner, if she needs it.
 That it may continue to flourish, I, Edward Steigmeyer, will my brothers and sisters to Garrett High School.
 To the American Tobacco Company, do I, Eugene Stiles, will my trusty pipe.
 I, Keith Strock, will my acute bashfulness to Nicholas "Nickelodian" Sarpa.
 To Jeanne Holsinger, I, Eileen Voorhees, will my sisterly affection.
 I, Miriam Voorhees, will the gleam in my eye to the guy for whom it shines.
 I, Meredith Walter, will my big Hudson to Louie Sapp. (He'd look cute driving it.)
 I, Ila Warner, will my life to a "Peck" of fun.
 I, Bernard Weaver, will my harmonica to the many long-winded Juniors.
 I, Berneice Wetoskey, will my plans for the future to a very Grave(s) fellow.
 I, Nancy Whelan, give the many cheers I have led to next year's cheering section.
 I, Roger Whirlledge, will my nitroglycerin to Britain, with a prayer that it will be appreciated there.
 I, Edwin Yanuszkeski, will my noteworthy speeches in Public Speaking to the Class of '45.
 I, Eugene Yarde, will my little-used midnight oil to Pat Bechtol.
 I, Dorothy Yingling, will my whistling ability to all of Garrett High School's "mocking birds."
 I, Eileen Zinn, will my many blushes to Marjorie Huffman.
 I, Florence Zulick, will my often-envied dimples to Baby Snooks.
 To the Freshmen, we, the Seniors will "kiddy cars" to get around the halls more easily.
 To the Sophomores we will the seldom-opened encyclopedias.
 To the Juniors we will our text books (good as new), plus our dignity, plus the many good times we've had, plus anything else they may desire.

Thus ends the cases of the '41 session of this court. The court is adjourned until May, 1942.

 Clerk, Jeanette Chester

Prophetic Tales from

Every Sunday night at ten
The hermit's cave is open.
He tells the tales of mice and men,
Of gossip left unspoken.
And if you'd like to hear the tale,
"The Class of '41,"
Just turn your lights out; lend your ear;
The story's just begun.

Remember Babbitt? She's the gal
Who works in radio.
She does those expert sound effects
On Station O O O.
Glenn Miller's band is graced to have
Kate Rider for their vocals.
And Neighborgall is keeping time
At contests for the locals.

Alma Bowlby heads a school
For girls with lots of dough.
While Bohler, The Lone Ranger,
Rides the plains. "Silver, Hi Oh!"
Mowry works at training fleas.
Freeze is a Junior G-Man.
Dills shot-puts on Olympic teams
And no one "puts" like he can.

The Voorhees sisters have an act,—
Playing now on Broadway.
And Kruger, "Garrett's prima donna,"
Sings opera for her pay.
"The Henie Girl on Roller Skates"
Is Mary Bloom's new billing.
And Ila Warner fixes hair
Of all who may be willing.

Dora Sarber rides bare-back,
With Ringling Brothers Show.
Kate Connor is a stewardess
On Ye Olde B. and O.
Glenn Getz is busy slinging hash,
With Whirlledge to compete.
While Oliver's new dictionary
Is judged the most complete.

Charles Simcox's face is featured now
In every movie house.
They tell me he has five new cars—
And me with none! (The louse)
DeVeny is the Chaplain
At Alcatraz, I've heard.
While Bertsch, the poet, writes her rhyme
Of tree and flower and bird.

Kalafat had her great romance;
She married Superman.
Zinn's ostrich farm's the place at which
Miss Rand now buys her fan.
Marjorie Kelham's orphanage
Has housed full many a "kid."
Don Schulthess sells tobacco
To American for their bid.

After dark Miss Gault is seen,
A night club entertainer.
Walt Disney just signed Harwood up
As Mickey Mouse's trainer.
Bonnie Hazeltine may be found
At Park Avenue 629.
She washes dishes for Astor's now,
And I hear she's doing fine.

"Dot" Thompson met her Waterloo
When McDowell came to town.
Her column's worse than Winchell's though,
It runs the whole world down.
Zoa Hamm, they say, and Margaret too
Are artists in their lines.
They write those awful verses found
On comic valentines.

Wayne Custer's taken yodeling;
They say he's quite the best.
But when it comes to calling hogs,
Dick Bartels leads the rest.
Alelia Anderson, 'tis said
Is teaching music now.
And "Runion's Lectures" we've all heard
On "Life Begins Somehow."

Who? Stanley Rose? He smells perfume.
His snozzle is a honey.
You see, it's not the looks that count,
But how it makes the money.
Earl Richmond finally got a job.
He's helping "Shanny" show
The Seniors all the Chemistry
They ever hope to know.

Pat, Mary, and Anne, "The Jada Girls,"
Have traveled near and far,
Their song they've sung to everyone
And each is now a star.
Arlene is still a sister-in-law,
But she won't give up hope.
She'll tell you that an old maid's life
Is all and all "No Soap!"

Cleo Smith's a nurse, I hear.
She nurses wounded hearts.
That Walters, Cupid's general,
Has wounded with her darts.
Mary Sleek is quite refined.
She teaches Emily Post
Good manners and the proper things
To do when guest or host.

Hermit's Cave

Arthur Murray's School of Dance
Has "Beb" Bapst for a teacher.
And each of the Green boys, "M. and A.,"
Is now addressed as "Preacher."
Irving Berlin's lyricist
Is our own Dot Cattell.
Since she's joined forces with his staff
His songs have sold quite well.

Dorothy Yingling's busy too,
Whistling her way through college.
What some of these poor kids won't do
To get a little knowledge!
Podunk Center had its luck.
Gordon's their coach 'tis said.
He's set an all time record
By teaching from his bed.

Annetta Hendrickson's the gal
Who won a lot of dough,
By jerking sodas and making cokes
In good old Kokomo.
Alma Hillegass has led
A very hectic life.
She's got a big job on her hands
For she's the president's wife.

"The Book of the Month" for the past year
Is Zulick's "Ask Me How."
And Nina Mae, a milliner,
Is quite a "big" girl now.
Jeanette Chester gained her fame
By dancing her way through life.
While Bette Cerasale's going to make
Some man a perfect wife.

Bill Moses has a lease on girls.
He has them by the hordes.
And Eugene Yarde may still be seen
In old-style Model-A Fords.
Yanuszeski's quite the guy
In oratory work.
And Stiles, in testing airplanes,
Was never known to shirk.

And Steigmeyer, not to be outdone,
Has joined the army too.
He's learned to do most everything
His younger brothers do.
Ruth Soellinger's found, "The play's the thing."
It is her every thought.
The legitimate stage has claimed her art.
Her services it's bought.

A rag-time gal is Eleanor,
She still is pickin' tunes
For Smilin' Ellington who now
Not only plays but croons.
Doris Freeman leads a band,
A second Ina Ray Hutton.
And in her mink and ermine coats,
Pearl Eldridge sure is struttin'.

Edith Davidson, for fun,
Makes money counting sheep
For Millionaire, Joe Myers, when
He cannot get to sleep.
Keith Strock is making cabinets
For Philco radio.
The Lewis girl, a governess,
Has learned to speak just so.

Berneice Wetosky is employed
As press agent to Case,
Who sings and brings to her hometown
A musical first place.
Secretary Clabaugh does
The typing for Miss Mann;
Her latest essay for the press
Is "I'm American."

JoAnn Heinzerling is named
"The Girl Most Photographed."
And Whelan since she's out of school
Has never, never laughed.
Fara Lee, "The One-Note Girl,"
On her dear clarinet,
Has held a note for twenty years.
I hear she's at it yet.

Bill Creager chose to spend his life
In laughs and loves and play.
Bob Saxer likes to fish and hunt
To loaf his time away.
Mary Moody likes to cook
Especially on a farm.
While Weaver, now a traffic cop
Keeps pedestrians from harm.

And now you know the record
By students, long gone by,
Who back in 1941
Left dear old Garrett Hi.
Their motto which they live, "Strive on"
Has led them to do right.
You've heard the tale; the hermit's done.
So now turn on the light.

—Meredith Holsinger

Senior Class Play

"Professor, How Could You," a fast-moving three act farce, by Anne Coulter Martens, presented by the Senior Class, May 1 and 2, was a rollicking success from beginning to end.

Woman-hating young Professor Perry provided a hilarious plot when he was offered the position of Dean—if he could get a wife. The Professor didn't want a wife, but he wanted to be Dean, so he asked his friends to help him locate a wife. More fun and excitement was added when the Professor suddenly discovered he was claimed by three fiancées. But the Professor narrowed the field to one and so brought the play to a harmonious end.

Supporting Cast

Underclassmen are traditionally considered inferior to Seniors. They are the apprentices always waiting to fill the shoes of the class above.

But this year it has been different. Each of the lower classes has carried on a highly significant program. Seventh grade to Juniors have filled the activities calendar to overflowing with parties, special programs, and worthwhile guidance studies.

Under the leadership of able advisers the underclasses have stepped out of their subordinate role and have become each a separate unit, striving to work out the problems peculiar to their own group, and at the same time, have made a substantial contribution to school life as a whole.

Activities

Hobby Lobby

The modern school is a part of life as well as a preparation for life. Education no longer means merely the discussion of theories. In the present social order an up-to-date educational program includes all the activities of wholesome living.

Realizing that a well-rounded personality is a decided asset, Garrett High School has provided an outstanding program of personality-building activities.

The various school organizations serve to complement the work of the classroom by providing constructive guidance in physical, social, and moral values.

Senior Band

Snappy new uniforms illuminated the Band spotlight for the year. Thanks go to the Band and Band Parents organizations for making this much-needed "dressing up" possible.

Music, the universal language, helps students adjust themselves to their studies and to their associates. Values which he could receive in no other way, come to the pupil who participates in Band. Cooperating with a large group, learning to comprehend quickly, and acquiring speed are only a few of the worthwhile results.

The Band exhibited their accomplishments in the concert on December tenth, 1940. They played at many athletic events and in March took part in the Minstrel Show. In May their contribution to the graduation exercises completed the year's work.

The officers were: Buelta Fenstermaker, president; James Harris, vice-president; Nina Childers, secretary, and Wilbur Arnold, director.

Prep Band

The Prep Band of twenty-five members was organized as an outlet for the beginners who are not accomplished enough to join the Senior Band. In the Prep Band the students learn the elementary steps which are so essential to good music. The most important mastery is reading notes, finding these notes on the instrument, and following the conductor all as one step. They also learn dynamics which is the using of soft and loud tones upon an instrument.

Music and Life

It is not the object of the music department to make professional musicians. It aims to create good singers, players, and listeners who will later reap the rewards of their experience by singing in choirs and playing in local musical organizations or by being appreciative listeners.

Music is an art; and, as such, it should be given a definite place in the curricula for the development of the aesthetic character. To be a good musician, a person must love music as an art, must feel that constant study and practice is necessary for advancement, and must know that attendance at all rehearsals and performances is absolutely essential.

The acquired habits of a musician correlate with other scholastic abilities. The love of an art will develop the love of other school subjects; the idea of practicing to gain perfection develops regular habits of study; and the responsibility thrust upon a school musician will develop other responsibilities and loyalties.

Much great and impressive music has been written that cannot be played or sung by inexperienced high school groups. If we succeed in teaching the fundamentals of this great art, we are confident further development will take care of itself.

Baton Twirlers

The baton twirlers are to be commended for their excellent maneuvers on parades and other public exhibitions. Of great importance is the fact that these pupils have originated their routines entirely out of their own ingenuity and enthusiasm.

Stringed Quartet

The string quartet is carrying on the ideal of string music in the school. It is hoped that this interest in the finest type of music will serve as a nucleus for a future orchestra.

Mixed Chorus

Building a foundation for future vocal work and developing the art of music appreciation are two of the purposes of the Mixed Chorus.

At weekly meetings, held the eighth period on Monday, both classical and popular music is the subject of study.

The Mixed Chorus participated in the concert which was given on December 10, 1940 and in the minstrel show in March; they concluded the year at graduation exercises.

Officers are Roger Neighborgall, president; Evelyn Richmond, vice-president; Kathryn VanFleit, secretary; Donald Putt, librarian; Fay Kalafat, accompanist.

Girls Chorus

The Girls Chorus is separated into two groups. One group meets on Thursday; the other on Friday. The total membership for the two days is thirty-four. The members are grouped into three divisions: soprano, second-soprano, and alto. They are taught to sing both secular and sacred music. The development of individual voices, balance in singing, and A Capella work are the aims of this organization.

The Girls Chorus participated in the concert and the minstrel show.

The officers of the club are Alma Bowlby, president; Joan Rensberger, vice-president; Barbara Garrison, secretary; Evelyn Richmond, treasurer; Fay Kalafat, accompanist; Nina Childers, librarian; Wilbur Arnold, director.

Drama Club

The Drama Club, an organization of ninety members, met Friday the eighth period in the auditorium. This club is open to juniors and seniors only. It is a rule of the club that all new members must take part in a program as part of their initiation. Therefore the first three or four meetings were used for this initiation.

The aim of the club is to give the students training in appearing before others and to acquaint them with the technique of play production through directing, acting in, and studying different plays and programs.

The stage equipment was increased by the club this year through the purchase of a davenport and chair. This equipment helped considerably in giving the plays produced a suitable background.

The officers were: Stanley Rose, president; Dorothy Cattell, vice-president; Florence Zulick, secretary-treasurer; Fay Kalafat, program chairman; and Ray Handley, adviser.

Founder

The Drama Club, one of the largest organizations of the school, was first organized a number of years ago by Mrs. Nancy Fitch. Until she took a leave of absence last fall, Mrs. Fitch continued to sponsor the club. Many are the happy memories of Friday's eighth period in the hearts of those who are now "trouping on life's stage."

Bible Study Club

The objectives of the Bible Study Club are to create an increased interest in Bible study, to gain a larger and clearer understanding of the Bible, and to enjoy the fellowship of Bible study in Garrett High School. The year's program was based on the study of the life of Christ. The most outstanding project of the Bible Club was the presentation over the public address system, the week before Christmas vacation, of the story of the birth of Christ. The membership was thirteen.

The officers were: Edith Davidson, president; Allen Greene, vice-president; Jean Ellington, secretary-treasurer; club adviser, A. F. Morris.

Freshmen Boys Club

One of the main objectives of the Freshman Boys Club is a gala picnic that is held at the end of each school year. The two main highlights of the year's activities were the reciprocal parties of the Freshmen Boys Club and the Blue Triangle Club which were held on February fourth and March thirteenth. The club membership totaled twenty-two.

The officers were: Harry Kelly, president; Clarence Powell, vice-president; David McDowell, secretary-treasurer; and Earl Shanaberger, adviser.

Girl Reserve

The honor of having the largest membership of any club in the high school goes to the Girl Reserve Club which has a membership of one hundred and sixteen girls. This club is directly affiliated with the National Young Women's Christian Association.

During the year the girls were divided into nine groups with a chairman for each group. Varied programs were provided by these groups during the year.

The Girl Reserves invited the women's clubs and sororities to share their World Fellowship meeting. Mrs. Myrtle Graeter Malott, world traveler, gave a very interesting talk about the many foreign lands that she has visited. Girl Reserves modeled costumes of the countries on which she spoke. Mrs. Malott was a college friend of Miss Marie Thrush.

The Garrett Girl Reserve Club will be hostess to the District Conference next fall. Barbara Garrison and Bernice McLaughlin, president and secretary of next year's conference, represented Garrett at the Northern Indiana Girl Reserve Conference held at South Bend.

Members of the cabinet were: Cleophus Smith, president; Loraine Babbitt, vice-president; Mary Milks, secretary; Alma Bowlby, treasurer; Meredith Holsinger, program chairman; Joyce Clark, social chairman; Ila Warner, service chairman; and Miss Marie Thrush, adviser.

Future Farmers of America

The Future Farmers of America assisted the Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce in sponsoring the State Muck Crop Show. Boys from freshmen to seniors actively participated in contests, fairs, and judging teams throughout the year. March 7, ten boys attended the District Banquet at Ligonier. On March 10, at a skating party the winners of the pest extermination contest were announced.

The "Donkey Basketball" game March 18, along with the selling of jello and "T" shirts, plus dues contributed to the club financially.

Officers of the club for 1940-41 were: Don Schulthess, president; Edwin Yanuszkeski, vice-president; Miles Weller, secretary; Karl Kearns, treasurer; Wesley Lung, reporter; Paul Bateman, adviser.

Scout Club

The Boy Scout Club of thirty-five members met weekly in room 27 for first aid instructions. Roger Gelhausen, Darwin Smith, Clarence Powell, David McDowell, and Eugene Souder, conducted the meetings under the guidance of Gray Woodcox.

Four teams composed of five boys were formed to participate in first aid contests. Last spring Roger Gelhausen's team earned its way through the Garrett, Ft. Wayne, and Logansport eliminations to the finals in Chicago, where they made a "B" rating.

Officers were: Roger Gelhausen, junior assistant scoutmaster in charge of programs; Darwin Smith, senior patrol leader; Richard Greene, scribe; and Wallace Coble, Kenneth Fitch, David McDowell, and Clarence Powell, patrol leaders.

Boys Athletic Club

The Athletic Club is an organization of lettermen and boys who are out for sports in Garrett High School. The purpose of the club is to teach the members to be better sports and to help them to understand the rules of various contests.

During the year the club heard different members of the club lead discussions on the sport of the season. The club also heard interesting accounts given by pupils who attended college football and basketball games.

The officers of the club were: William Smurr, president; John Parvu, vice-president; John Koch, secretary; Coach Cameron Parks, director; Paul Bateman, assistant director.

Girls Athletic Club

Basketball has been the main activity of the Girls Athletic Club this year. League games were played on Tuesday evenings. Teams of the league were captained by Louise Jamison, Wilma Traxler, Nancy Whelan, Bette Moses, Florence Riedhart, Lila Burtch, Buelta Fenstermaker, Alma Hillegass, Dorothy Yingling, Alelia Anderson, and Phyllis Anderson.

A skating party and a party to conclude the year's activities were included in the club's social program.

The club had a membership of forty-four girls from grades nine to twelve.

Officers were: Loraine Babbitt, president; Nancy Whelan, secretary-treasurer; Miss Wilma Henny, director; and Miss Eileen Haffner, assistant director.

Hi-Y

The purpose: To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character, was carried out to the fullest by the Garrett Hi-Y of 1940-41.

The president, Jack DeVeney, also held the presidency in the Fourth Indiana District of Hi-Y. The district includes seven counties. During Jack's administration, the district was reorganized into smaller, more workable sub-districts. Bernard Weaver and Lowell Stuckman were the council members to represent the Garrett Hi-Y.

During National Education Week and the Lenten season the boys presented short programs over the public address system to the student body.

Service projects undertaken by the club were: The raising and lowering of the flag daily, changing the poster in room twenty-eight, and supervising the "traffic" in the halls and the conduct in room twenty-eight at certain times.

Dues and the sale of novelty-schedule pencils contributed to the financial fund of the club. Forty-four boys from sophomores to seniors were members of the club. The officers were: Jack DeVeney, president; Edward Symon, vice-president; Louis Sapp, secretary; Roger Gordon, treasurer; John Flora, adviser; A. F. Morris, ministerial adviser.

Blue Triangle

To prepare the girls for membership in Girl Reserve; to learn the principles of good conduct; to create a sisterly attitude among the girls; to foster a program of social activities for members; and to teach leadership, are the purposes of the Blue Triangle.

All freshman girls are eligible to membership in the club. There are forty-six members.

At Thanksgiving time the girls gave baskets to needy families. To earn money, the girls sold Christmas wreathes and cones. Part of the money earned was spent to buy mittens for children who needed them.

The club officers for the year were: Margaret Pearson, president; Lois Freeze, vice-president; Jean Bonnett, secretary; Doris Lepard, treasurer; Miss Wilma Henney, adviser.

Komedian's Logik

"What is double petunia?

Well, a petunia is a flower like a begonia;

A begonia is a meat like a sausage;

A sausage and battery is a crime;

Monkeys crime trees;

Trees a crowd;

A rooster crowd in the morning and made a noise;

A noise is on your face like your eyes;

The eyes is the 'opposite of the nays;

A horse nays and has a colt;

You get a colt and go to bed and wake up the next morning with double petunia."

Sports

Sports Review

Sports make a positive contribution to a complete education. They aid the general purposes of the school.

Taken as a whole, most fellows who are interested in athletics will work harder, stay in school longer, and make better grades in order to qualify for interscholastic contests.

But there are more important outcomes than these. Participation in high school sports helps one to learn to give and take with a smile, win or lose, to be alert, to develop good characteristics, and above all to be a good sport. Many opportunities occur in life for these outcomes to prove their true values.

Football

Garrett High School's 1940 football season was one of rebuilding the team for future years. With only a few veterans and many first-year men, Coach Parks started his task. Most of the squad played for experience this year and they gained much against very formidable opponents.

The fact that the boys had tough opposition with such teams as Huntington, South Side, Goshen, and LaPorte indicates the Railroader's lineup should be a fighting eleven in 1941.

Season's Record

Garrett	6	Decatur	14
Garrett	6	Portland	19
Garrett	0	LaPorte	19
Garrett	13	Col. City	26
Garrett	0	Goshen	26
Garrett	0	Hicksville	0
Garrett	0	South Side	32
Garrett	0	Huntington	58
Garrett	0	Auburn	31

Weaver:

"Buck," a hard-driving, bone-crushing demon, smashed his way through the center of many an opponent's line for considerable yardage—one year letterman.

Bohler:

A little man was he, but when the pile was tangled you found "Peck" had made the tackle at all costs—three year letterman.

Dills:

A big man who could do powerful things; Gordon stopped many a run before it got started. He could be counted on to get his man—three year letterman.

Neighborgall:

When an oftackle play was called, "Big Rog" was in there driving until the whistle blew—three year letterman.

Yarde:

An end whose specialties were snagging passes out of the ether, and getting down under punts—one year letterman.

Custer:

The "farmer" was an in-and-out man, mostly in, and when he was in you could count on a real battle—one year letterman.

Gordon:

Many's the time he's punted the Railroaders out of their own territory and gained yardage on an exchange of kicks—one year letterman.

Basketball

Starting their season with the power of a Diesel, the Railroaders won eight games in a row. This winning streak was something to be proud of.

However, in the latter part of the season, the engine struck a derail and from then on the train just wouldn't stay on the track.

There is much new material and experience left from this year's squad to serve as a nucleus for next year's fighting five.

Garrett 39.....Fremont	24	Garrett 26.....Churubusco	33
------------------------	----	---------------------------	----

Harwood:

"Speed," the little boy of the quintet, was the rebound man.

Mowry:

"Horsie," the captain, and star forward of the five, capped his high school net career by making the first five of the all-sectional team.

Yarde:

"Jasper," a reliable man in the tight spots, played center for the Rail-roaders.

Gordon:

"Flash," the long-shot artist of the club came through at the crucial moments.

Neighborgall:

"Big Rog," the fire of the club, was widely known for his speed.

Track

State contender Neighborgall, six other lettermen, and a wealth of new material reported for the 1941 track squad.

Garrett made an enviable record during the 1940 season. At the Gary Relays, Garrett scored seven points. In the Muncie Relays the Railroaders chalked up seventeen points to win seven medals and the trophy. Another of the highlights of the year was the winning of berths by Robert Ross and Roger Neighborgall to the State Track Meet. Ross, who was ill, was unable to compete and Neighborgall finished second in the 440 yard dash.

There is every indication that the Railroaders will continue to chalk up victories for Garrett High.

Track Schedule 1941

Gary Relays	March 29

Station Chatte

Mr. Shanaberger: "Kathleen, if you haven't anything to do, I'll get something for you."

Kathleen Conner: "O. K. You can get my chemistry."

Guest: "Are you the bridegroom, young man?"

Gordon Dills: "No, I was eliminated in the semi-finals."

Mr. Rose (to his wife): "Gracious me! The baby swallowed a bottle of ink!"

Mrs. Rose: "Incredible!"

Mr. Rose: "No, indelible."

"Stop reaching across the table, Don. Haven't you a tongue?"

"Yes, sir, but my arm is longer."

Darwin Smith: "Please—"

She: "No!"

Darwin: "Aw, please—"

She: "No!"

Darwin: "Even if I tell you I love you more than anybody in the world?"

She: "Positively no!"

Darwin: "Aw, but Mother, all the other freshmen stay out after nine."

Florence Zulick (on the telephone): "Zulick! Zulick!

Z! Z! No, not C! ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ—Z."

Teacher: "You know, the camel can go a whole week without touching water."

Gerald Lawhead: "So could I if Mother didn't make me wash."

Judge: "Have you ever appeared as a witness before?"

Glenn Getz: "Yes, your honor."

Judge: "In what suit?"

Glenn: "My blue serge."

Mother: "Now, JoAnn, why didn't you give your little brother a part of your apple?"

JoAnn Heinzerling: "Not me! That was what Eve did to Adam—and she's been criticized ever since!"

Margie Kelham (visiting B. & O. roundhouse): "What is that enormous thing?"

Foreman: "That is a locomotive boiler."

Margie: "And why do you boil a locomotive?"

Foreman: "To make the engine tender."
